WILL TAKE HIS MEDICINE JOHN Y. M'KANE OF GRAVESEND

MAKES A DRAMATIC SPEKCH. Prospects of Severe Discipline Being Meted Out to Bolting Democratic Leaders ! Brooklyn and the County Towns.

The Discipline Committee of the Demoeratic General Committee of Kings county met again last night in Jefferson Hall, Brooklyn, to continue the investigation of the charges of alleged disloyalty at the late election, made by the Campaign Committee against the regular associations of the Eighth, Seventeenth, and Nineteenth wards, and the towns of Gravesand and New Utrecht. In the absence of Chairman Anthony Barrett, Alderman John McCarty presided. Register Murtha, Chairman of the Campaign Committee, furnished the tell-tale election figures from the two county towns. which showed that Mr. Benedict, the Democrati eandidate for Assembly in the Twelfth district, ran far behind his ticket at each polling place, and was fairly snowed under by the werwhelming vote cast for Mr. Tallmadge, the Bepublican candidate. Both in New Utrecht and Gravesend Mr. Benedict's vote was more than 600 behind that cast for the State ticket. Mr. Benedict was called upon to explain this extraordinary result. He said that he had visited the various polling places in each town on election day, and was surprised to find that very few of his ballots were in circulation. while the Talimadge ballots were bunched with the Democratic tickets. He spoke to the with the Premocratic tickets. He spoke to the Democratic ticket peddlers, who said that they new what they were doing, and seemed to dory in their shame. It was evident, he said, that there had been a concerted movement to defeat him, and that it was perfectly understood by the Democratic leaders in the towns. At the close of Mr. Benedict's remarks, Mr. McCarthy asked if any of the officers of the town associations were present to put in a defeace.

carthy associations were present to put in a detence.

Lawyer George W. Broderick, in the absence of Justice McMahon. President of the regular association in Gravesend, said that he believed very satisfactory reasons could be advanced why the vote for Mr. Benedict fell so much abort of that cast for the other Democratic candidates. Mr. Tallmadge was very popular, while Mr. Benedict was very unpopular for reasons. He asked that Justice McMahon should have an opportunity to be heard. The committee resolved to give Justice McMahon ample time to explain matters. The surprise of the evening came at this point when Supervisor John Y. McKane, the Gravesend political magnate, moved from his soat in the rear of the hall toward the platform, with firm step and head erect, and thus unbosomed himself:

"If there is one thing more than another that I hate it is a coward, and I have come here to make an explanation, and clear the Democratic Association of Gravesend and its officers of all blame and responsibility for the vote in that town at the late election. I am a Democrat, and have been a Democrat all my life. At the last election I voted for the entire Democratic ticket with the exception of Assemblyman. I did not vote, I am free to say, for Mr. Benedict, the Democratic candidate, and in this action
I was simply keeping the promise I made to a friend. It might be better, perhaps, in a political sense, that I should have acted differently, If any one is to be blamed for this, I am ready to take the censure.

"I am not pleading the baby act, and I don't cal sense, that I should have acted differently, If any one is to be blamed for this, I am ready to take the censure.

"I am not pleading the baby act, and I don't want to stand here and see the officers of the association and the association itself blamed injustly. If there is any nerson to be blamed for the Republican majority for the Assemblyman it is John Y. McKane. I am ready to take my medicine. Good night."

Mr. McKane then steeped down from the platform and marched out of the hall without looking to the right or left.

Supervisor Cornelius Ferguson, who played a similar part in the interest of the Republican candidate for Assembly in New Utrecht, did not appear, but the committee will give him an opportunity to explain to-day. Nothing of importance was elicited in the case of the ward associations. It is believed that severe disciplinary measures will be exercised toward McKane and Ferguson, and that their places as delegates to the General Committee may be declared vacant. Some leaders in the party, however, are in layor of conciliatory measures, in view of the near approach of the Presidential election.

COHNFELD'S PECUNIARY REMAINS. Creditor Lichtenbelm Begins Suit Against the Park Bank and Others,

Since the $39,000 worth of bonds were given back to the mysterious Frankle Olson at Detroit, and carried over the border again into Canada, the creditors of Isidor Cohnfeld in this city have lost all interest in either the bonds or the woman, and nothing more seems likely to be done about them unless George Silva & Co. and the Chief of the Detroit police for letting the bonds go. The Park Bank, which is the assignee of nearly all of Cohnfeld's personal property, does not propose to bring any such suit. Barlow & Wetmore are their counsel. suppose such a suit would be all right," said suit. Barlow & Wetmore are their counsel. "I suppose such a suit would be all right," said Mr. Wetmore yesterday, "but we shall not bring one. If Silva & Co. recover, it will be as much for our benefit as for theirs. I guess the chances for a suit depend a good deal upon whether the Chief of Police is good for a $50,000 judgment or not."

Blumenstiel & Hirsch, who act for George H. Lichtenheim, have given up any hope of getting money out of the Canndian wilds, and have instituted a suit to set aside the assignment which Cohnfeld made to the Park Bank and others. The papers were served yesterday. The firm give notice that Lichtenheim will apply on Jan. 3 for an injunction restraining the defendants from selling any of the stock, fixtures or machinery, or disposing of any of the accounts, bills receivable, or credits. All of this personal property is now held in trust by the Park Bank for the benefit of the Park Bank to the benefit of the Park Bank for the benefit of the Park Bank to Abnot and Leather Bank, J. B. Rosenthal & Co., Kessler & Co., John Monroe & Co., S. Zeimer & Yeldstein, Ackerman Bros., H. Ackerman & Co., H. Sonnenfeld & Co., F. E. Halle, and S. Brown, Lichtenheim alleges that the transfer of this property was a traud upon him. He says that he discovered the existence of the transfer about Oct, 14, but that it had not been delivered. He was about to begin suit to recover his claim from Cohnfeld, whereupon Cohnfeld agreed, he alleges, to refrain from delivering the transfer until Nov, 4, and also not to deliver it until it had been altered so as to protect Lichtenheim's claim. Nothwithstanding this agreement, which Lichtenheim says is in writing. Cohnfeld deliver the transfer without including his claim in it, and he alleges in the complaint that the Park Bank and the other defendants were aware of the existence of the agreement not to deliver it.

If Lichtenheim succeeds in getting the transfer set aside it will let in his claim among the first as he has a judgment against Cohnfeld, and his executi report Mr. Nicoli says:

The subsequent conduct of the firm of Geo. K. Civil suits have been brought and settled, Mr. Nicoll says, in a way to release Hutchinson from accountability to the complainants.

ACTOR BARRYMORE MAKES A SCENE. A Display of Bad Taste and Violence in a Sixth Avenue Restaurant,

Arthur T. Vyse, a young broker of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, whose office is in the Aldrich Court building in lower Broadway. went to dinner on Thursday evening in the Ol Knickerbocker Cottage on Sixth avenue with Frank Beebe, a bookkeeper in Brown Brothers banking house. The two sat in a dining room off the main dining ball. Just after they arrived Maurice Barrymore, Mrs. Langtry's leading man, walked in with an actress and took possession of the table behind the one at which Vyse and his friend sat. Just as the dinner was finished. Actor Barrymore walked over to Bro ker Vyse, and, it is reported, charged him with having insulted the lady. His language was offensive, and Broker Vyse, who has some skill with his hands, struck Barrymore. The men clinched, and M. Jacquin, the proprietor, and two French waiters rushed in and dragged the two men apart. Then they adjourned to the sidewalk and had their light out, while the young woman who had dined with Barrymore stood by and watched the combat with evident

Barrymore used to be amateur middle-weight champion of all England, and is proud of his prowess, tyse-is a member of the Staten Island Athletic Club, and is something of a fighter bimself. He is 26 years old and stands 6 feet 1 inch. Barrymore is older and more wiry. He let drive at Vyse's nose and the blood flowed freely, but the young broker gave as good as was sent until Vyse inaily keeled over into the gutter ugainst a truck. Then Barrymore recollected that it was nearly time for Mirs, Langtry to go on the stage of the Grand Opera House and he hurried away, Vyse went into a drug store near by and washed his face and went home. His friend lieebe hadn't interferred in the conflict, and he thought Vyse was able to take care of himself. Vyse had a slightly swollen cheek and a slight bruise on his lorchend yesterday. The whole thing is a mistake, he said to a Sun reporter. Barrymore charged me with insulting the lady who was with him by criting he. As I was sitting with my back to her it was impossible for me to have stared at her, and I told the actor so. He flew into a rage, and uttered a vulgar oath, which was more than I could stand, and I struck him. Then Jacquin rushed in with his waiters and wanted to put me out. I wouldn't go, because I resented the treatment I had received. I didn't go out, either, until Barrymore asked me if I would step out and settle it on the sidewalk. He made my nose bleed, but I don't think I need be ashamed of what I did in the way of defending myself until I had received. Appropriate Christmas Gifts Rain from a Tree in the Call Koom.

The wheat men of the Produce Exchange forgot yesterday all their troubles for the year, including the great Chicago insult and the smashing of the wheat cliques. They started in to have a joyous Christmas gathering, and the big grain call room, with its amphitheatre of seats, was selected as the scene. In this room 300 grain brokers crowded in the afternoon, and when their whoops had penetrated the board room adjoining the assmblage was noon, and when their whoops had penetrated the board room adjoining the assmblage was swelled to a thousand. A Christmas tree had been rigged on the desk used by Grain Caller Alpheus Geer, and dangling from its brauches were pretzels, corrailed from the neighboring beer salcons, paper dolls, and other burlesque Christmas gifts.

E. L. Moore, who was saluted as "Stump," sat just under the tree, and was the funny man of the occasion, until Mr. Geer appeared on the restrum to begin the call for the day. The brokers didn't want any grain call, they wanted Mr. Geer to sing for them, and a united how! suggested that he favor the audience with "Mary Ann. my daughter."

Mr. Geer gave up the idea of having a call, but refused to sing anything about Mary Ann. He, however, consented to give the boys "There's a new coon in town," after which Tommy Day and Orator Alfred E. Pearsall gave recitations. Then Mr. Geer and Mr. Pearsall sang "Larboard Watch, aboy," after which Bob Cook distributed the gifts on the tree, Here are some of them:

Pretty Soild Repairs Required to Make It a Saie Apartment House.

Mr. Robert L. Darragh, representing the company.

The surveyors report that the foundations of the Holbrook flats have been improperly constructed. "The soil on which the building rests," says the report, "Is filled-in ground. The masonry is started on a timber construction. Ried in with concrete. The timber is above the water level and in a decaying condition. The floors throughout are constructed of wooden beams, placed side by side, concreted on top and wire lattled and playlered beneath. The beams are badly decayed."

The surveyors report that the premises should be repaired by removing all the woodwork used in the foundation and substituting a sufficient foundation of stone or brick and also by removing the present floor construction. The leaning partitions should be raken down and replaced by brick partition wails of lawful thickness, starting on a sufficient foundation.

The directors of the Philadelphia Ball Club have decided to introduce other sports besides base ball on their grounds next season, and they have secured the services of James H. Tyng of the Staten Island Club, both as a player and a director of athletic sports. Tyng has been for a number of years one of the most celebrated of amateur ball players and atticities. He graduated from Harvard College in 1876, and from the Harvard Law School in 1879, since which time he has practised as an attorney, first in Boston and latterly in New York. His ball career began as a third baseman on the Harvard team, but he soon officiated as eacher, and for four years formed the receiving end of the famous Ernst and Tyng battery.

During the summer vacation he tried his hand at pitching for the famous Beacon Club of Boston, with such success that after his removal to New York in 1881 he officiated almost exclusively in the box, and soon became celebrated both as a bitcher and general alliaround player, batter, and base runner for the Staten Island Club. President A. J. Reach says the Philadelphia Chib had been considering various plans to utilize their new ball park when their cinb was out of town.

"Herealter," said he, "we will not confine ourselves strictly to base ball, but will give exhibitions of all kinds of athletic sports and all other amusements of an appropriate charactier. The new departure is an experiment, but I believe the public will appreciate it, and that it will pay."

MORE HOT WORK AT POLO.

Jersey City Defeated by the Brooklyn Team at dersey City.

The Brooklyn polo team, strenghtened by the addition of Sherwood, a new rusher, visited Jersey City last night and won a neat victory from the home club after a pretty warm contest. Sherwood proved a good man, and he, with the assistance of Wodtke, made all the goals and did all the passing for their team. The Jersey team was badly out of form, and did nothing in the way of team work. Several times chances were offered them for Several times chances were onered them for goals, but there was no one on hand to get the built until it was too late. There was some sharp fouling at one time, but as both sides did their share the fouls were allowed only when they were thought to be intentional. Reagan did not play up to his old-time vim, but he did good work. The score:

A Projected Pool Tournament.

The professional pool players held a meeting at the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Com-pany office yesterday to arrange for the tournament to be played in Jan-uary in Maurice Daly's Brooklyn Assembly Rooms, to introduce the new game of "continuous pool" invented by Champion Albert M. Frey. In the new game two contestants continue to pocket the balls and keep on counting, as if they were playing regular carrom billiards, until one player has counted carrom olimaras, unit one player has counted to keep on playing until he misses, instead of stopping when he has scored sixty-one points, as in the old-fashioned game. The experts got into a prolonged debate on the best method of counting the balls, and another meeting will have to be held to settle the point. Samuel F. Is haight declared that the balls ought to count according to the numbers, as they do in regular fifteen-ball pool. Frey, on the other hand, contended that each ball should count simply one point. He said that if Knight's idea were adopted, a player might get the 15 ball on an easy shot, while his adversary might be forced to make the most difficult and brilliant shot on the table to secure a low-numbered ball. It was much fairer to both players, therefore, to count each ball as one point simply and require 800 balls to be pecketed to count pool. It is probable that Frey's suggestion will finally be agreed to by the others.

The tournament is to be played for money prizes. The contestants will probably be Frey, L. E. Malche: ex-Champion Alfred De Oro, otherwise Balbo, the Cubin expert: Joe King, Samuel F. Knight, and Charles Manning. Each will put up an entrance fee to be added to the prize money. 800 points. Each player is also permitted to

FEIDAY, Dec. 23.

Dulness and strength were again the fea-tures of the stock market. London contributed to a fairly strong opening, the market for American securities there being firm, and there were some foreign buying orders, especially in Union Pacific. Contrary to general expectation Reading did not prove a drag upon the rest of the market. There was a well-defined contest in that stock during the first hour, but the efforts to depress the price did not carry it much below the lowest figures of yesterday. The discussion as to the chances of serious differences between the Reading Company and its employees was continued. No light was obtained upon the situation, probably for the reason that affairs have not yet taken a suffi-Cinbroom in New York.

Kanaa Citt. Dec. 18.—A woman's walking match was begun here at 8 o'clock to night. The starters were want in the company were with the company were with the company were land fluide. N. T. Nary Anderson, Louisville, Ky.; I see the company were discharged yesterday for refusing to handle boycotted freight, but this matter appears to be incidental to the more important question.

which relates to the wages the company shall pay its miners after Jan. 1. It is possible that the matter will assume definite shape before business is resumed upon the Stock Exchange on Tuesday. Reading led the market in point of activity and, with two exceptions, scored the greatest net gain of any of the active stocks. The exceptions were Union Pacific and Lucka-wanns, which ranked second in point of ac-

Union Pacific was influenced by the progress that is being made toward completing the alliance with the Northern Pacific and Oregon Companies, as well as by the growing conviction that the relations of the company to the Government are likely to be adjusted upon a businesslike basis during the present session of Congress. The movement in Lackawanna was naturally attributed to the return to the street from Congressional labors of the operator who has been identified with the market interests of the stock for a long time. The Granger stocks did not reflect the bearish ad-interests of the stock for a long time. The Granger stocks did not reflect the bearish advices from the West, which were to the effect that the recent reduction in rates is likely to result in war. Western Union was conspicuously strong upon what was generally conceded to be excellent ouying. Among the specialities Richmond Terminal preferred. Fort Worth and Denver City, Consolidated Gas, and New Jersey Central received a good deal of attention at substantial sdvances. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy lost a portion of yesterday's advance. While the movement of prices to-day appeared to be largely due to the liquidation of short accounts, it is worthy of note that there were no stocks pressing for sale and that the advance seemed to influence no realizing to speak of. Consequently the closing was strong at about the best prices.

The business week in Wall street practically closes to-night, since the Stock Exchange, together with the other Exchanges, owing to the half holiday to-morrow, have adjourned until Tuesday morning. Of the week there is little to say, since the market has been almost normal. Still it has reflected a good deal of conlidence relative to the near future. Money on call has continued surprisingly easy, due very largely to the absence of speculation. The market for sterling has been strong and higher for reasons noted last week, namely, the sculing place now. The industrial situation is a little unsettled by the protracted strike of the Lehigh miners and by the possibility of others in the same line. The feeling of apprehension regarding Congress is wenring awny, and Wall street is beginning to venture awny, and Wall street is beginning to contertain the belief that whatever is done will be for the best interests of the country. Fears are expressed that important legislation may be delayed, it being assumed that the minority party is likely to pursue an obstructive course. be delayed, it being assumed that the minority party is likely to pursue an obstructive course. As command with the final prices of a week ago the entire list is higher. The improvement in the main, however, is fractional. The only noteworthy net gains are those of 1½ & cent. in Western Union. 1½ in Union Pacific. 1½ in Lackawanna. 1 in Fort Worth and Denver City, and ½ in St. Paul, Orgon and Transcontinental, and Kansas and Texas, Reading. Richmond Terminal, and Pacific Mail are exceptions in closing a little lower.

A CHILD'S LIFE SAVED When six months old the left hand of our little grand child began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sors. Soon other five months after it became a running sore, some same sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His hend was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old.

I undertook the care of him, his mother havin when he was a little more than a year old of our when he was a little more than a year old of consump-tion (scrofula, of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not more when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICUEA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVERT his head was completely cured and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ngly bone formation a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we must always remain; his hands are strong, though we much feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child he fore jusing the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now, consider it a wonderful care. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them. Mrs. E. S. DRIGGS, May 0, 1885. 612 E. Clay st., Bloomington, III.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

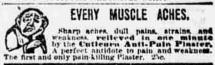

MAGGIE HOPPING.
